WOLFRAM UPDATES MATHEMATICA

Wolfram Research has reintroduced Mathematica 6, the company said. Mathematica 1.0 was originally launched in 1988, and today's Mathematica 6 is a completely new product, with hundreds of Wolfram technologies developed over the past 10 years. Mathematica 6 is applicable to a wider range of areas, and its new way of working improves innovation. Many examples of its interactive capabilities are posted to the Wolfram Demonstrations Project.

NINJATRADER RELEASES NEWEST VERSION, OFFERS ADD-ON SOFTWARE

NinjaTrader said it had now released version 6. This newest version extends NinjaTrader's position in trade management for the discretionary trader and introduces new features including a solution for automated trading system developers. NinjaTrader 6 is free to use for advanced charting, market analytics, system development and trade simulation.

In other news, MTPredictor RT now offers an add-on for the NinjaTrader platform. MTPredictor intraday traders can now use any of the multiple datafeeds that power the charts in NinjaTrader. MTPredictor RT helps real-time traders determine which and what trades are worth the risk, how much to risk, and how to manage the selected trades.
